Ambrose Community Lifestyle Standards

Ambrose University College is a distinctly Christian academic community grounded in the evangelical tradition with a clear mission:

Ambrose University College is a Christian learning community committed to the education and formation of men and women for service. To accomplish the mission, Ambrose is deeply committed to academic excellence (ediscere), community life (vivere) and spiritual formation (credere).

We aspire our graduates to be Godly, goal orientated, responsible citizens, critical thinkers, compassionate, and deeply committed to making a positive difference in the world and in the church.

Students that apply, and accept the invitation to join the distinctly Christian academic community at Ambrose will grow and develop, and greatly benefit from engaging in a learning environment that is flooded with educationally meaningful opportunities.

Membership in any community requires individual responsibility - and Ambrose is no exception. Ambrose is committed to nurturing an environment that is conducive to holistic development and spiritual maturity (Hebrews 12: 1-3) in the context of rigorous academic programs grounded in a Christian worldview. Students have a responsibility to contribute in a meaningful and significant way to the very community they will derive benefit from. This means at times limiting personal liberty and making sacrifices for the benefit of the community (Philippians 2:4).

The idea of self-sacrifice and service to the greater good may be counter-cultural and at odds with individualism; however, it is at the heart of the Christian world and life view. It is foundational for the Responsibility of Membership and represents an essential aspect of the spiritual maturation process.

Residence Policy

All full time, first and second year Ambrose single students under the age of 20, regardless of program, are required to live in residence, unless they are students living in the greater Calgary area (must submit residence application).
