

Our Story

Sunday, April 20, 2008

Ambrose is a Christian University College with a bold future, and roots that go well back into the last century.

Throughout our history, our goal has remained constant – to be a place where students can experience a truly meaningful time of growth. We have a vision for carrying out Christ's Great Commission, and a passion for deep and authentic spirituality.

One of our original Presidents, Dr. Blackett, said it best: "We invest in young people because they will go where we cannot go, do what we cannot do, attain heights we have never reached and continue to shine long after our sun has set."

To invest in young people, we are constructing a new campus for the century ahead. We are building a place where we can annually welcome upwards of 2,500 students, a place to prepare them to serve Christ in the church and in the world.

You can influence how the story unfolds

On May 4, 2008, people in Alliance and Nazarene churches all across Canada will join together to support Ambrose through a special offering. They will invest in the future, confident in the transformative value of a Christian university education.

Plan to be part of this historic moment:

- Talk to your family about the May 4 offering.
- Donate online: www.ambrose.edu
- Consider making a planned gift, or a gift of shares.
- Contact us to discuss naming opportunities on the new campus.
- Support Ambrose with your prayers.

Kait chose Ambrose for community, and her BA in Christian Studies for its flexibility. "It was a good choice. It covered all the basics of theology and the liberal arts. I had many ah-ha moments, grew both personally and spiritually."

Kait also chose Ambrose for leadership opportunities. Her time as a Residence Assistant was one of the highlights of her experience.

Finally, she says "I arrived from Toronto a naïve young person. I left as an adult. My Ambrose chapter was a time of real transformation."

Ambrose is the official school of The Christian and Missionary Alliance and The Church of the Nazarene in Canada. We welcome students from all Christian backgrounds.
